

Hope Meadows

THE HOPE HERALD

Season's Greetings from our homes to yours

Winter 2018 - 2019

Hope Meadows Welcome Sign for the Season

Carol, Anthony, Angel and Mariangely decorating the office

*Happy Holidays and
Best Wishes for the New Year*

Author Returns to Hope

This past fall author Veronica Kirin returned to Hope Meadows with her completed book, Stories of Elders. She used this occasion to visit with the seniors she had interviewed in her initial visit in 2017, and to promote her book. The Rantoul Public Library held a book signing where each of the seniors had a chance to sign copies along with the author.

Author Veronica Kirin

We also had the opportunity to get a picture of Veronica with the Hope Meadows seniors who had so graciously accepted her offer to interview them and include them in her book.

Joan, Veronica, Betty, Hank, David, Fran, Chari and Dolores

Updated!

Be Social!

Like us on Facebook

www.facebook.com/hopemeadowsrantoul

Follow us on Twitter

www.twitter.com/hopemeadows_

2018 Events

Above: RTHS student using the insulation blower to rehab one of the Hope Meadows homes under the Collective Impact Grant

Below: Loading the insulation into the blower

Chief Brown with Anthony at the 2018 Rantoul Night Out

Face painting was part of the event, too.

Lynn Podoll won the Trivia Contest, but everyone had a good time playing along.

Members of the Hope community mingle with members of the Rantoul community during the Rantoul Night Out. It was so warm we had to meet inside, even in September.

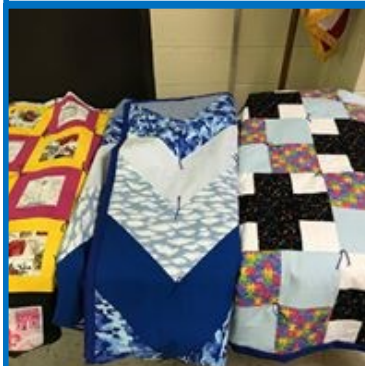

Catholic Heart Workers refreshing the numbers on the mailboxes

2018 Holiday Party

The serious business of picking out a toy

Quilts made this past year

Longtime resident, Betty Segal, visiting with new resident, Dany'el Turner, with former resident Danielle Wheeler observing

Father and Daughter, Greg and Marysa Morrow

